

HUGGIES® believes deeply in the Power of Hugs. That’s because we know hugs are more than just a heartwarming cuddle – this stimulation and human interaction are proven to support babies’ physiological and emotional wellbeing. The simple act of a hug extends to the products and programs we create, including *No Baby Unhugged, our initiative to help ensure babies get the hugs they need to thrive.

No Baby Unhugged* works with nurses, parents and communities to help babies through:

- Hospital volunteer hugging programs that provide physical human interaction for babies in the NICU through grants that help hospitals establish a volunteer hugging program or support an existing one
- Clinical insights from our HUGGIES® Nursing Advisory Council, including Every Change Matters*: A Guide to Developmental Diapering Care, a comprehensive approach that includes skin care, physical development, sensory elements and bonding
- Specially designed products for the smallest babies including our HUGGIES® Little Snugglers Nano Preemie and Micro Preemie Diapers and HUGGIES Natural Care® Extra Sensitive Wipes developed in partnership with NICU nurses
- Donations to help the one in three parents that suffer from diaper need and continued support of our founding sponsorship of the National Diaper Bank Network

Becoming a *No Baby Unhugged Grant Recipient

HUGGIES® has a shared a vision with hospitals and nurses to provide the best outcomes for babies. We look forward to partnering with hospitals to support hugging programs through our *No Baby Unhugged grants.

Hospitals can apply for one of up to 24 available $10,000 *No Baby Unhugged grants to launch a new volunteer hugging program or expand support for an existing program. Funding can be used at the hospital’s discretion in support of its volunteer hugging program, applied to areas of greatest need such as volunteer training and recruitment, hugger chairs/rocking chairs and educational materials.
